

Submission of Theses to the British Library

The British Library is asking the universities' co-operation in requiring doctoral degree candidates to carry out the following:

Complete a British Library agreement form as part of their standard procedure. The form;

- i asks authors to provide personal data and thesis data as it will appear in catalogue records and alerting media.
- ii asks authors to sign authorisation enabling the British Library to produce copies for loan or sale.
- iii provides for payment of royalties by the British Library to the author. The royalty will be 10% of revenue received from sales of a second or subsequent copy during any period of one year. The royalty will be paid annually in April, and it is the author's responsibility to keep the British Library informed of any change in address.
- iv sets out minimum standards of physical presentation. The text supplied must be the examined printed text; options for acceptance of electronic full-text are under review.

Supply the British Library with a photocopy of the title page and abstract with the completed agreement form.

British Theses and Copyright

Author's Rights

Is the British Library proposing to publish British Theses? No.

A British thesis is an unpublished work within the meaning of the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act, 1988, (s.175). Copies of a thesis cannot be issued to the public without the copyright owner's consent (s.16)

British theses are protected under the Act as unpublished works. The Act prohibits re-publication of any significant part of a thesis by a third party without the copyright owner's consent. The British Library produces single copies for loan or retention in response to specific demand. Issuing single copies on demand does not constitute publishing.

Do the British Library's proposals compromise the author's rights? No.

The copyright of a thesis belongs to the author but this ownership may be assigned by written agreement either specifically or as part of an undertaking between the researcher and the awarding institution when the course of research was entered upon. If the awarding institution actually employs the researcher to undertake the work, the copyright belongs automatically to the awarding institution (s.11)

Under the British Library's scheme the author is asked to sign an agreement permitting the British Library to copy his/her thesis on demand. The copies will either be lent or sold to individuals or libraries.

Copyright ownership is unaffected. The copy supplied has the same protection under the Act as the original copy.

The British Library undertakes that in every copy supplied, either for loan or retention, the following statement will be included:

This copy has been supplied on the understanding that it is copyright material and that no quotation from the thesis may be published without proper acknowledgement.

BRITISH LIBRARY DOCTORAL THESIS AGREEMENT FORM

The British Thesis Service is designed to promote awareness of and improve access to the results of publicly funded British Doctoral Research.

Records of theses in the scheme are available for searching in The British Library Public Catalogue (www.blpc.bl.uk) and the Index to Theses published by Expert Information Ltd (www.theses.com).

On demand access is provided for individual researchers and libraries from a single, central collection of more than 170,000 doctoral theses.

See www.bl.uk/britishthesis for more information

Access Agreement

Through my *university/college/department, I agree to supply the British Library Document Supply Centre, with a copy of my thesis.

I agree that my thesis may be copied on demand for loan or sale by the British Library, or its agents, to requesting libraries (who may add the copy to their collection for loan or consultation) or individuals. I understand that any copies of my thesis will contain the following statement:

This copy has been supplied on the understanding that it is copyright material and that no quotation from the thesis may be published without proper acknowledgement.

I confirm that the thesis and abstracts are my original work, that further copying will not infringe any rights of others, and that I have the right to make these authorisations. Other publication rights may be granted as I choose.

The British Library agrees to pay me a royalty of ten percent on any sales of the second and subsequent copies of my thesis per year. The royalty will be paid annually in April.

In order to be eligible for such royalties, I agree that my obligation is to notify the British Library of any change of address.
